

- for a financially healthier co-op
- to have more satisfied members
- to make the Board's job easier

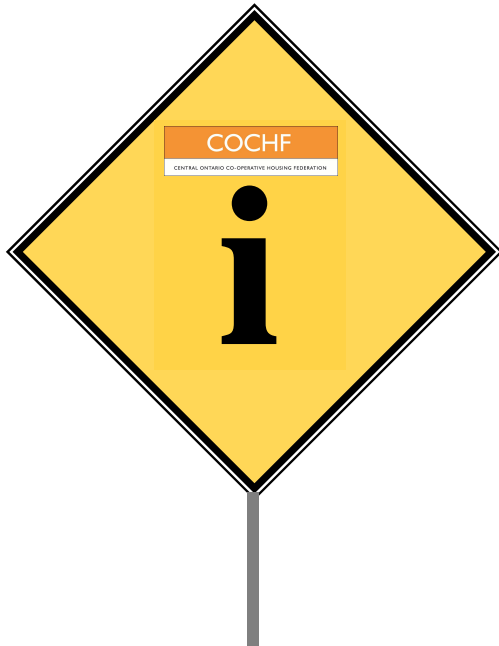

- gives the co-op a sense of direction
- helps the Board to achieve things it wants to do

Planning sessions are conducted by an experienced COCHF facilitator – you also have the option of COCHF documenting your plan. And, your session can be done as a stand-alone planning session or combined with training.

on arranging a planning session for your co-op's Board...

You can complete the same request form you have used to request a workshop (Portable Workshop Request), or first contact COCHF for assistance on arranging the planning session for your Board.
(form available on www.cochf.coop)

We can help you determine if you want to do a one-year or a multi-year plan or a strategic plan and how many hours the session may need.

Here is an idea to consider:

If you have a more experienced Board and your education budget is limited, this year you may want to consider a planning session in place of your annual Board training session.
